

Jovannah Saenz

Professional Bio

St. Charles Borromeo School is an outstanding community filled with caring energetic people. She is ecstatic to be a part of a learning environment that sets high standards for its students and teachers. St. Charles is a place of worship, work and warmth. Mrs. Saenz has been honored to be a part of it since 2007. She has experience in the fields of Science and Business. She received her BA in Science and Elementary Education. For the future, she plans to continue educating herself in the field of science. The more she can master, the better she can relay to her students the joy she has for science.

Educational Philosophy

Education is a journey we embark on as young children and complete as knowledgeable, responsible adults. She believes education is a term used to describe one's journey through time. Education is the process of growing spiritually, intellectually, emotionally, and physically into adulthood and having the tools to succeed in a world that is growing and changing everyday. Mrs. Saenz enjoys the responsibility as an educator to accompany and embark on this journey with her young students. She believes education is about self-discovery and the anticipation to learn the unknown. She feels it is her responsibility to provide her students with a non-threatening, but challenging atmosphere where we grow together as individuals and as a classroom community.

