

Nicole Sandoval, RN

Professional Bio

Nurse Nicole works at St. Charles because she believes in our mission to “provide challenging academics fostered by Catholic values.” She enjoys her job in support of this mission. She believes in what the faculty and staff teach and how they teach it. During her years as an RN, Nurse Nicole has worked in many different arenas of nursing. She has worked in the hospital on a medical/surgical unit, a pediatric unit, a mother/baby care unit, and a palliative care unit. She has also worked outside the hospital at a semiconductor facility as an Occupational Health Nurse and as a part time instructor for nursing assistants. Nurse Nicole has experience in other fields as well. She has worked in a factory, retail store, and telephone catalog company. When she was in high school she volunteered at a local hospital and enjoyed helping others. She also had a summer job in high school counting paper at a local print shop. Yes, she counted one piece at a time. Before she got her nursing degree, she worked at an adolescent treatment facility as a youth care worker.

Educational Philosophy

Education is an essential part of our lives that affects everything we do. It is vital to give individuals the tools to make good choices. As with all nursing care, it is necessary to enable a person to decide how they would like to be cared for by giving them information. A person who is well informed can take care of themselves and those around them.
