The Good Stuff...

Hello everyone! It was so wonderful talking to all of you at parent-teacher conferences this past Friday. Your children are making great progress and working so hard!

We have a lot going on this month. Please continue to create a space and time for your student to complete their homework. Thank you for your continued support at home.

In Math we have started working on patterns. Try to help your child find patterns that they may see in the world around them. Also, have them look for numbers wherever they see them. Ask them to name the different numbers they see or count items that they may see.

In reading we continue to work on letter recognition and learning some new sight words. We know the following sight words: I, am. Most of the students know these sight words, as well, that we use often in our morning message: it, is, we, in, have. In handwriting, we have covered formation of the numbers 1-10 and have moved onto lowercase letters a, d, g, o, and c.

In Science we have begun our pumpkin unit where we learn about how our earth serves to help plants grow. Last week we talked about how the earth helps the pumpkin grow from a seed to a pumpkin. This week we will be using a variety of ways to measure small pumpkins that each student will bring in.

We are wrapping up Hispanic Heritage Month this week with a couple of craft projects. Please come on Friday between 1-3 p.m. to view our crafts in the gym.

Thank you for all that you do to support St. Charles! If you have questions or concerns, please contact me.
